California's Class Action Attorneys

MARLIN & SALTZMAN, LLP, IS RECOGNIZED throughout Southern California as a prominent litigation firm handling class actions, complex litigation and plaintiffs' personal injury cases.

EMPLOYMENT AND CONSUMER CLASS ACTIONS

Much of the firm's caseload involves class actions on behalf of employees who have suffered financial damages in a range of circumstances, including illegal overtime and compensation practices, a misclassification of work status, truckers denied mandatory rest and meal breaks, and employees required to pay part of the company's operating expenses without reimbursement. In addition, Marlin & Saltzman represents consumers in class actions.

PROVEN TRACK RECORD

Established in 1985, the firm is rated AV by Martindale-Hubbell®, and all eight of its attorneys have extensive trial and appellate experience. Three have been named to this year's Super Lawyers® list.

Taking cases through the class action certification process (and to trial, if needed) is critical when a significant number of plaintiffs have the same grievance. Marlin & Saltzman works hard to ensure that its cases get certified and has handled class action, complex litigation matters and serious injury cases resulting in payments of more than $500 million to clients.

"We always welcome the opportunity to partner with other attorneys who wish to refer cases to us," says co-founding partner Louis Marlin.
